There is some flexibility as we recognise some groups are small and may not use all the facilities, therefore a discussion with the site manager is always a good idea. There may be a small additional charge for materials used such as orienteering maps, route guides and such like. We do not expect to recover all our costs and are confident that our charges will be such as to encourage rather than deter potential users, bearing in mind what we have to offer.

Bookings are being taken now for the period March - August inclusive, for which a non-refundable booking fee of £25 is required with the booking. Please use our booking form for those who feel able to make a booking now.

It is likely that those potential users who do not know Linkenholt and have not used it before will wish to discuss what is available in more detail, and come and see the site. We would welcome this and would ask that in the first instance organisations should contact the Manager, Clive Bell (telephone/facsimile 01264 772209, mobile 07771 634081 or use our online booking system) who manages the bookings and will arrange visits and briefings.
